ENGIE pays tribute to Etienne Davignon

ENGIE learned with great sadness of the passing of Étienne Davignon, a leading figure in European economic and industrial life.

Throughout his career, he placed his experience at the service of the energy sector, both in his public responsibilities and in his roles within Tractebel, Suez and later ENGIE as a member of the Group's Board of Directors.

Through his commitment and vision, he left a lasting mark on the Group's history and contributed to its European industrial anchoring.

ENGIE pays tribute to his memory with gratitude and extends its sincere condolences to his family and loved ones.
